SHIP BOMBINGS BRING NEW CRISIS IN EUROPE

CLEAR LEAD OF SASKATCHEWAN LIBERALS IS 22

Party Goes to New House
 With 36 Members and Two Ridings Deferred

Social Crediters Elect Only Two

REGINA (CP)—Complete returns, and concessions today gave the Liberal government of Premier W. J. Patterson an overall majority of 22 in the Ninth Legislative Assembly of Saskatchewan, with voting still to take place in two far northern ridings on July 28.

Compared with the previous legislature, yesterday's general election showed the following results:

Party	New Legis- lature	At Dis- solution
Liberals	36	50
C.C.F.	10	5
Social Credit	2	0
Independent	1	0
Union Progressives	1	0
Deferred	2	0
Total	52	55

Redistribution cut the House membership down from 55 to 52 through eliminating eight constituencies and forming five new ones. The deferred elections are in Cumberland and Athabasca, two northern ridings.

MINISTERS RE-ELECTED

Feature of the late returns today in addition to the repulse of the Social Credit bid for power for the first time in Saskatchewan was the victory of Hon. W.
 F. Kerr, Minister of Natural Resources, in the northwestern riding of Turtleford.

Mr. Kerr and James Proctor, Social Credit, alternated in the lead as the votes were counted, but when all polls had reported today Mr. Kerr held a plurality of 169 in a four-cornered fight.
 Walter Hicks, Conservative, with 439, and John Stegheuis, C.C.F., with 449, lost their deposits.

Mr. Kerr's victory left only one cabinet member, Hon. C. M.
 Dunn, Minister of Highways, in Melville, and the Speaker of the last House, Hon. J. M. Parker, in Touchwood, without seats in the new House. All other cabinet members, led by Premier Patterson, were re-elected, except Hon. George Spence, Minister of Public Works, who retired.

WON WITH EASE

Ministers re-elected with ease were Premier Patterson in Can-nington; Hon. R. J. M. Parker, Municipal Affairs, in Pelly; Hon.
 T. C. Davis, Attorney-General, in Prince Albert; Hon. J. M. Uhrich,
 Health, in Rosthern; Hon. J. G.
 Taggart, Agriculture, in Swift
 Current, and Hon. J. W. Esty, Education, in Saskatoon.

A recount is in prospect in Melville, where Mr. Dunn lost

Polling Echoes Heard In Ottawa

Liberals Celebrate Victory in Saskatchewan; Triumph
 For Principles, Says King

OTTAWA (CP)—Echoes of the Saskatchewan election rang through the marble corridors of the Parliament Buildings today as enthusiastic Liberal members vented their feelings.

There were those, too, less vociferous, who slipped around paying off election bets, notably a Winnipeg Liberal member who had been too pessimistic.

From the federal Liberal standpoint the Patterson government's victory generally is viewed as a personal triumph for Hon. J. G.
 Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture, who stumped the province for the administration, and a restoration of "confidence in representative institutions."

Prime Minister King followed the election results closely throughout yesterday evening and sent a telegram of congratulation to Premier W. J. Patterson.

Forces Moved On Spain Front

HENDAYE, France (AP)—The government shifted heavy reinforcements to the Ustas sector on the Valencia front in eastern Spain today to bolster its crumbling defence 12 miles northwest of Cateilon de la Plana.

Crediting reports of unrest behind insurgent General Franco's lines, the Spanish (government) press agency reported from Gibraltar that 20 persons, including two women, had been executed
 Tuesday by insurgents at La Linea. Those executed were charged with distributing anti-Fascist leaflets.

La Linea is but a short distance over the border from Great Britain's Gibraltar.

Observers there also reported large numbers of Moors and Rifas, escorted by a gunboat and armed trawlers, landed from north Africa at the insurgent port of Algeiras. The reinforcements were linked with the reported unrest.

GEORGE SCOTT DIES

TORONTO (CP)—George
 Scott, 48, president of the Royal Naval Association and one of its founders, died at his home today, two weeks after he had suffered a heart attack while attending a Jutland Day memorial service,
 May 29.

Blood-stained Handkerchief Discovered Near Ymir, B.C., Where Baby Disappeared

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—Sergeant
 C. G. Barber of the British Columbia police, director of a widespread search in adjoining Ymir district for 19-month-old Carmella Lajeunesse, said today a blood-stained man's handkerchief had been found on a hillside trail.

"There is more to this child's disappearance than appears on the surface," Sgt. Barber said.
 Corporal C. W. A. Barwis left Nelson today for an unannounced destination as Sgt. Barber told interviewers a "thorough investigation" would be conducted into the baby's disappearance.

As Mrs. Morris Lajeunesse, the child's mother, returned to her Ymir home with a new-born son, more than 200 men from the Ymir Yankee Girl and Wesco mines continued to comb surroundings.

Figures in Kidnap Hunt

J. Edgar Hoover (seated) was directing the search for the body of little Jimmy Cash when the above picture was taken at the G-men's Florida headquarters in Miami. With him was Sheriff D. C. Coleman of Dade County. The body of the boy was found shortly after last night. A youth of 21, Franklin P. McCall, is held by police.

Japanese Bomb China Stations

Railways Near Canton Attacked, But No Bombs Dropped in City

CANTON (AP)—Japanese airplanes ferried their cargoes of explosives and dropped them in the vicinity of Canton Thursday for the 13th consecutive day. The raiders blasted three railway stations in the vicinity, but dropped no bombs in the shattered south China metropolis, where intensive anti-aircraft fire greeted them.

The stations were Yingtak on the Canton-Henkow line, Sheklung on the Canton-Kowloon line that feeds China war supplies from the blockaded British port of Hongkong, and Shlukwan.

The Shlukung bombing at 9 a.m. smashed locomotives and coaches of a train, but the crew and passengers escaped.

With more than 8,000 killed and wounded since May 28, it was reported unofficially Canton authorities in recent weeks have executed 400 alleged traitors, including Formosans and Koreans.
 Large quantities of hand grenades were said to have been seized and an internal uprising thwarted.

MANY FLEEING

SHANGHAI (AP)—War's fury
 today was causing mass migration from three great cities, adding innumerable thousands to an estimated 30,000,000 refugees already homeless as a result of Japan's sweep across China.

Bombing since May 28 at Canton have caused an estimated 500,000 to flee. Thousands more are fleeing south and west from Chengchow, junction point of the east-west Lungshai and north-south Peiping-Hankow railways.
 Still other thousands, chiefly women and children, are walking, riding and taking to boats from Hankow, the provisional capital.

SNOW SEEN IN TRAIL DISTRICT

TRAIL, B.C. (CP)—Light snow fell on the upper levels around Trail today as an aftermath of threatening weather earlier in the week.

An eight-inch fall of snow
 Tuesday night also was reported from Quesnel in the Cariboo district, and a three-inch fall at Barkerville and Wells.

STOLEN CAR IS FOUND IN LAKE

Aid of Horse Enlisted to Recover A. W. Smith's Machine at Hamsterley

Three cars stolen in the city and Oak Bay last night were recovered by city police since midnight, two in damaged condition and the third undamaged after being run about 50 miles.

This morning Detective Henry F. Jarvis, with the assistance of Sgt. Eric Elwell of the Saanich police and residents of the district with a horse, pulled a car owned by Archie W. Smith, 1902
 Duchess Street, from the waters of Elk Lake, where it was abandoned by thieves. It was taken from Cornwell Street between 10:50 and 11:10 last night.

When found this morning it was in the lake at Hamsterley Lakeside beach, about 20 feet from shore with water up to the bottom of the front seats. The ignition system was useless, and it was necessary for police to tow
 the car to the city.

A car owned by G. A. Stevens, 1133 North Park Street, was stolen from outside the Atlas Theatre and found crashed into a cement wall at Ryan Street and Belmont Avenue. A back wheel was badly damaged.

M. Darling reported his car was stolen from the Yacht Club at 11:40 last night and early this morning it was found on Asquith Street. While the car was not damaged, some of Mr. Darling's personal property in the machine was, the lining having been torn from his overcoat and some business books having been misused.

Police Chief J. A. McCallan reiterated former warnings to motorists to take greater care in locking their cars, and removing ignition keys. Police suspected local youths of the thefts, and were anxious to have public cooperation in preventing thefts, he said.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The body of kidnapped five-year-old James Bailey Cash Jr. was found three minutes after last midnight a mile from his home at Princeton.

Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation disclosed they had recovered the entire $10,000 ransom yesterday and a kidnaper suspect had been in custody a week.

The prisoner is Franklin Pierce
 McCall, 21, truck driver, minister's son and former tenant of the Cash apartment house. J. Edgar Hoover, director of the F.B.I., announced McCall had confessed writing the three ransom notes and collecting the money, but made no admission as to further participation.

State Attorney George Worley moved immediately, however, to have a special grand jury called for next Monday to return an indictment.

BODY IN THICKET

Sheriff D. C. Coleman said Mc-Call, without any show of emotion, led Hoover, himself, and a squad of agents to the dense thicket where the body had been left without an effort at burial.
 Little remained but the skeleton and fragments of the pyjamas
 the five-year-old tow-head wore when he was seized from his bed
 the night of May 28.

Throng's Cheer King At Birthday Event

Many Canadians in Crowds in London Streets to See His Majesty

LONDON (CP)—Thousands, including Canadians, today swarmed the sunlit Mall and cheered the King as he rode with the Duke of Gloucester and the Duke of Kent to take the salute at the historic ceremony of the trooping of the color at the official observance of his birthday.

His Majesty, mounted on a chestnut charger and wearing the scarlet and gold uniform of colonel-in-chief of the Scots Guards, led the glittering cavalcade from Buckingham Palace to the Horse Guards Parade.

Queen Mother Mary and Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret drove to the parade with the King's escort of Life Guards.
 Queen Elizabeth was unable to attend. Her Majesty is at Windsor, recovering from a cold.

Awaiting the King on the Mall were the massed bands of the Life Guards and the Horse Guards, which preceded the procession down the Mall for the ceremony. The crowd set up a great din.

Public buildings flew flags, the navy dressed ship and royal salutes were fired at appropriate places. The King will be 43 next December, but the official celebration was put forward to the better summer weather.

MESSAGE FROM FRANCE

PARIS (CP-Havas)—President
 Albert Lebrun today sent a message of congratulations to King George in connection with the official observance of His Majesty's birthday. The King replied he was "greatly pleased by the greetings."

LONDON (CP)—A crisis threatens over the slaughter from the air. Japan's declared intention to continue the Canton massacres and the growing toll of attacks on British and French ships in Spanish waters have brought Paris and London sharply against an ugly problem.

Three French seamen, a British nonintervention observer and a British ship owners agent were killed today when an insurgent plane bombed the freighter Brisbane at Denia, Spain.

The British freighter Isadora was bombed at Castellon de la Plana.

A later Madrid dispatch said:
 "Spanish insurgent air raiders today bombed a third merchant ship, off Benicarló near Castellon de la Plana, killing 12 persons and wounding 19. The ship was not immediately identified. The attack was the most serious of three such bombardments early today."

British officials today sharply denied reports a Royal Air Force patrol might be sent to Spain to protect British shipping in Spanish waters. Further reports that the Nyon agreement to suppress submarine piracy in the Mediterranean might be extended to include air bombing likewise were declared without foundation.

ANGER AT ROME

The mere suggestion of such an extension aroused indignation in Rome.

Anti-Fascism is mobilized on orders from Moscow to make a Red Spain "a powder barrel" which may start a general conflagration, says the Rome newspaper Stampa. "On the other threatening front in Bohemia storm clouds are gathering instead of dispersing. The extremely grave crisis has not opened the eyes of the rulers of Praha. It has only blinded them still further."

In a dispatch from London, the Rome Tribuna says: "We are moving toward an international crisis."

British officials are still working along two lines, first, the formation of an international commission to investigate air bombing in Spain; second, consideration with the British representatives at Burgos and Barcelona of what further steps can be taken to protect British ships.

On neither proposal, however, has material progress so far been announced.

HOTEL STRIKE IN PORTLAND

Partial Walkout Demoralizes Service in Eight Major Houses

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)— Marching pickets and bewildered, stair-climbing guests today marked a strike which drew 1,250 to 2,000 hotel employees from their work in eight of this city's largest hotels yesterday.

Elevator operators, switchboard girls, bellhops, dining-room and kitchen employees, clerks, chambermaids and porters joined the exodus, called by the unions involved to force recognition from employers.

However, groups in several hotels refused to accept the union edict. No hotels were closed and all attempted to keep up a semblance of service.

A union statement declared a strike deadline had been ignored by operators who, the unions said, had been "unfair" in "refusing to live up to their agreement to arbitrate and in asking the unions to hold an election to prove their right to exist as functioning organizations for collective bargaining."

A statement signed by the hotels asserted they were given no notice of a strike, and there was no dispute with employees.

BRITAIN BUYS 400 PLANES IN U.S.

Government Announces Move to Speed Expansion of Air Force

LONDON (CP-Havas)—The Air Ministry announced tonight the government had decided to buy 400 planes from the United States.

The decision followed the recent return of the air mission sent to the United States and Canada to explore the possibilities of obtaining help for British air rearmament in those countries.

The Air Ministry announcement said the purchases would be made from two United States firms.

It was noted in this connection that when the air mission returned here last week, it was accompanied by J. T. Kindel-berger, president of North American Aviation Inc., and Carl Squier, vice president of the Lockheed Aircraft Corporation.

 Both have been in conference with Air Ministry officials.

CANADIAN PLANTS

The Air Ministry's statement
 said:

"The mission also pursued certain discussions with firms in Canada as to the possibility of bringing into being increased capacity in that country for the manufacture of aircraft on a long-range plan. The government has under consideration certain tentative proposals which have been formulated as a result of those discussions."

 today. It was explained this step will not interfere with the work of army chaplains.

EARLY TRIAL IS TO FOLLOW FINDING OF BODY OF SLAIN BOY

When it was explained what condition the body was in, the boy's father decided not to look at it. Friends of the family said they planned an early, private funeral.

It was McCall who called Cash's attention to the third ransom note two nights after the abduction, saying he had found it on the floor of Cash's apartment and the kidnapper apparently had slipped it under the door.

EARLIER ARREST

Sheriff Coleman, suspicious because the note had been wadded into a ball, arrested McCall June 1. After questioning he was released, with G men shadowing him. The following day he joined the volunteer possemen hunting for clues over the very ground where the body and the ransom were hidden. That night authorities picked him up again and he has been held ever since in a detention cell at the F.B.I. office.

There he could be protected from violence, but Princeton received the news the case had been broken without any great stir.

In addition to recovering the ransom, authorities also found the shoebox in which Cash delivered the 1,500 bills of small denomination. It had been torn to pieces and hidden beneath a stone in a palmetto clump.

BELIEVED LONE JOB

Location of the body, the ransom and the shoebox indicated the locale of the entire crime at no time ranged farther than two miles from the Cash home. This circumstance apparently strengthened authorities in their belief McCall carried it out by himself. He did not own an automobile.

Worley took charge of the prosecution as Hoover indicated no federal law apparently had been violated and the kidnapper should be tried in the state courts. Whether he is charged with murder or kidnapping for ransom, he would face a possible death sentence conviction.

Discovery of the Cash boy's body came exactly 10 days after the headless torso of kidnapped Peter Levine was washed up on the rocky shore of Long Island Sound, not far from New Rochelle, N.Y.

The 12-year-old son of Murray Levine, New York attorney, had disappeared February 24 on his way home from school. Subsequently his father received ransom notes, the first of which demanded $60,000. The father attempted unsuccessfully to negotiate with the abductors.

THIRD RANSOM NOTE

The third ransom note by which McCall was trapped was delivered late at night on the Monday after the kidnapping.

The gist of the note was that too many persons had been in the vicinity when Cash drove over a route mapped in an earlier message to deliver the ransom and the kidnapper wanted him to go out again. On that trip Cash dropped the shoebox full of small bills in the highway.

U.S. REQUEST
WASHINGTON (AP)—United States Ambassador Joseph Grew at Tokyo asked the Japanese government today to take urgent measures to stop bombing of non-combatant property in China.

The State Department said Grew had been instructed to apprise the Japanese Foreign Office of an attack of Japanese planes on the Lingnam University campus yesterday.

Grew, the announcement said, told the Japanese three bombs were dropped on the edge of the school's athletic field 200 yards from residences of Americans at the university. Grew's instructions were to tell the Japanese the university and its campus were clearly removed from the scene of military operations.

Grew reported back swiftly he had asked "urgent measures" against and recurrence of the attack.

The Liberal victory revived speculation concerning possibility of a federal election being called by the King government this fall. Conservatives on Parliament Hill accepted the verdict without comment.

Prime Minister King's telegram to Premier Patterson said in part: "No provincial political contest of recent years has been followed with comparable interest throughout all Canada, and indeed in other countries as well, nor could any have been more significant in its results."

"It marks a triumph for Liberal principles and policies in their application to the difficult problems of our times."

ATTACKS AT PORTS
DENIA, Spain (AP)—The British freighter Isadora and the French freighter Brisbane were bombed today in separate insurgent air raids in government-held Mediterranean seaports.

Five persons were killed, including an observer for the Non-Intervention Committee, in the raid on the Brisbane by a lone bomber outside this harbor. Ten others were injured, four gravely. Two of those killed were believed to be British, the Non-Intervention observer, tentatively identified as a Briton named Jones, and an agent of the ship's owners named Bullock. The other three were French seamen.

Denia is 20 miles south of Gandia, British company-owned port bombed yesterday.

The Isadora was struck in her engine room about midnight in the harbor of Castellon de la Plana and was believed to have been put out of commission. There were no casualties aboard the Isadora.

The Brisbane was set afire about the same time and still was burning at 11:30 a.m. today. It was feared she would sink.

The French ship of 4,004 tons and loaded with fertilizer was at anchor in Denia harbor when the air raider struck.

The plane dumped four bombs on the ship and then sprayed her decks with machine-gun fire.

A French destroyer at Valencia sped to the Brisbane's assistance and quickly reached her side. The French consul at Valencia came to Denia by automobile to investigate.

CAPTAIN WOUNDED

All the seamen killed were French. One of the most dangerously injured was the Brisbane's master, Captain R. Gwynol.

The Non-Intervention agent was said to have been a Briton named Jones.

(The 1,212-ton Isadora is registered at Belfast, Northern Ireland. She was reported in London to have left Marseilles, France, last Friday for Castellon de la Plana, government-held port north of Valencia.)

The Isadora was damaged previously in an air raid on Valencia April 25.

The Brisbane left Algiers for Valencia nine days ago.

Twelve foreign vessels have been sunk or damaged by insurgent air bombs the last two weeks.

CLUE TO MISSING CHILD IS FOUND

rounding hills for the daughter who disappeared last Monday. British Columbia police said the handkerchief they found on the trail was a blue-bordered man's handkerchief, stained with blood.

SURE CHILD TAKEN

They said they were convinced the child was too small to have wandered away by herself, and that she was removed by some human agency.

Carmella could not climb to the running board of a car, officers said, nor could she climb steps leading up to the Ymir mine. The only way she could leave the slag pile on which she was playing was to wander down the roadway or fall from the slag pile.

The mountain district for two miles around the mine was scoured yesterday and last night by volunteer searchers who marched shoulder to shoulder through dense brush.

Serge Barber said that if the child had been in the bush, the searchers must have found her. Lajeunesse took his wife home from hospital here yesterday after a priest had told her of her daughter's disappearance.

Large Crews Fight Fires In Forests

Blaze Near Bowser; Loss of $60,000 on Lulu Island

Forest rangers and large crews of men continued today their battle against forest fires spread over areas on Vancouver Island and the lower British Columbia mainland following a six-week spell of dry weather.

The most severe blaze was north of Bowser, B.C., on the east coast of the island. It swept through several years' accumulation of logging slash.

Latest reports said the blaze was being held from green timber on the Thompson and Clarke logging operations, but continued strong winds and lack of rain kept the situation serious.

Seven hundred acres of slash burned yesterday near Little Qualicum Falls, but fire fighters are believed to have the blaze under control.

Smaller fires were being fought in the Columbia Valley, Fraser Valley and Indian River districts on the mainland. Most of these were reported well under control.

In Burnaby Municipality a low-lying settlement of about 20 homes was endangered by a brush fire last night, but firemen succeeded in checking the blaze before it reached any of the houses.

Another fire was reported burning over a two-mile area of brush in Burnaby Lake district.

FACTORY BURNED

RICHMOND, B.C. (CP)—Fanned by a brisk wind, flames swept across Lulu Island early today and destroyed three homes and a peat factory and did considerable damage to a second peat factory before being checked near Queensboro, several miles south and west of New Westminster.

Total damage from the blaze was estimated at more than $60,000.

Homes of A. Percival, A. Gillies and M. Gray were destroyed by the fire which Percival said "struck like a blow-torch."

by four votes to F. J. Herman, Social Credit. Mr. Herman received 5,005 votes and Mr. Dunn received 5,001. The race was close all the way, first with Mr. Dunn leading and then Mr. Herman.

In Touchwood, the riding of the Speaker of the last House, Hon. J. M. Parker, Tom Johnston, C.C.F., won with 2,229 votes compared with 1,885 votes for Mr. Parker in a four-cornered fight. J. G. Diefenbaker, Conservative Leader, chosen party head in 1936, was defeated in Arm River by G. H. Danielson, Liberal, late member, his only opponent, who had a plurality of 168.

George Williams, leader of the C.C.F., held the riding of Wadona, defeating Dr. D. C. McCallum, Liberal, by 1,662 and H. W. Arnold, Social Credit, by 4,336. The latter will lose his deposit of $100.

Dr. J. T. M. Anderson, Conservative premier from 1929 until the Liberals won in 1934, went down to defeat in Saskatoon.

PATTERSON STATEMENT

"I very greatly appreciate the expression of confidence and trust accorded by the people of Saskatchewan at the polls," Premier W. J. Patterson said in a statement made public.

"In view of the conditions through which the province has been passing during the past few years, and the magnitude of the problems which these conditions have placed on the government of the province, the results of the election evidence the fact that the people generally appreciate the manner in which the government has met the situation. It is evidence of the stability, sanity and sound thinking of the electorate."

"An invasion from an adjoining province has been repelled and a sane, business-like, constructive program has been chosen in preference to theoretical and theatrical proposals advocated by various opposition groups."

"Now that the election is over, let us forget our political differences and unite in our endeavor to restore to Saskatchewan a normal measure of prosperity and well-being."

LOSE DEPOSITS

As returns come in today it was indicated that 41 of the 156 candidates forfeited their $100 deposits to the Saskatchewan treasury.

Social Credit candidates topped the list of losers. Seventeen of them lost their deposits. In addition, the two who ran as independent Social Credit candidates also lost their deposits.

Eleven Conservatives forfeited their deposits, including the two in Moose Jaw City. Five candidates of the C.C.F. lost their $100 and the others were one independent, one Independent Conservative, two Labor-Progressive and two Independent Labor.

SAYS C.C.F. ALTERNATIVE

Definite establishment of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation as the alternative of Liberalism was claimed by George H. Williams, C.C.F. leader, in commenting on the C.C.F. gains in the polling.

"Just as the Socialist Party in Sweden and New Zealand became the recognized alternative to parties which were making futile attempts to patch up capitalism, so also the C.C.F. is establishing itself as the party of reform and change in Canada," said Mr. Williams.

"This election demonstrates that Social Credit must succeed in Alberta on its own merits or pass out of the picture."

Although expressing disappointment the C.C.F. had not defeated the Liberal government, Mr. Williams said he was greatly pleased with the results and was gratified with the support given C.C.F. candidates.

The popular vote would not give an accurate picture of the actual C.C.F. strength, he said, because the federation purposely had refrained from contesting some seats in order to conserve finances, make the best use of speakers and co-operate with independent candidates.

PARADE IN EDMONTON

EDMONTON (CP)—Four thousand persons paraded 25 blocks in downtown Edmonton last night in a Liberal celebration of the party's victory in the Saskatchewan election. It was estimated 800 automobiles were driven in the parade, headed by Duncan Innes, president of the Alberta Provincial Liberal Association.

Shortness of the campaign was an important factor in the Liberal victory and the crushing defeat of Social Credit forces in Saskatchewan, Hon. Solon Low, Provincial Treasurer, said here today.

"Indications," he said, "point to a large Social Credit vote, which, in view of the suddenness with which the election was called and the short period of 21 days that elapsed from the announcement to polling day, is very gratifying."

"Social Credit is essentially an economic rather than a political movement and it depends on education for its promulgation. In the heat of an election campaign, suddenly called, there is little chance for the education of the masses."

THROGS CHEER KING AT BIRTHDAY EVENT

OTTAWA (CP)—A royal salute of 21 guns was fired from Parliament Hill today in celebration of the King's birthday. The Governor-General's Foot Guards will troop the colors tonight on the lawn in front of the Parliament Buildings.

Parliament itself did not take a holiday. Committees met in the forenoon and the House and Senate sat in the afternoon. Most of the government officers were open.

A 21-gun salute boomed out from the Work Point Barracks at noon today in honor of King George VI on the official celebration of his birthday. The salute was fired by the 5th Heavy Battery, R.C.A., under Lieut. D. S. Gillies.

The Union Jack streamed from every flagstaff in the city. Provincial government and civic offices were closed and staffs enjoyed the warm weather on picnics and outings. Banks were also closed, but stores remained open.

preliminary work and surveys are complete," he said today. "Actual work will begin as soon as we know details of the job."

Work on the new highway project, entailing an expenditure of $600,000 over a two-year period, will be by contract and jobs will be given "on a purely competitive basis exactly like any other provincial road undertaking," the minister said.

The new highway will shorten the distance from the boundary to New Westminster by about four miles and will eliminate traffic congestion.

Presbyterians Not in Council

TORONTO (CP)—The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada rejected today the recommendation of the evangelism and church life committee that the church participate in the work of the Social Service Council of Canada.

"I would feel more comfortable if we were not involved in semi-political organizations," said Dr. Hugh Munroe of New Glasgow, N.S., former Moderator who led opposition to the recommendation. "Modern political propaganda is ingenious. The council makes pronouncements sometimes on social service which are embarrassing to our people."

Whereupon the German newspaper Elz declared: "Alsace refuses more than ever forced assimilation into France."

RELIEF PARTY SEES ERUPTION

Philippines President Sees Mayon Volcano in Action

LEGASPI, P.I. (AP)—Mayon Volcano rumbled a fiery welcome to President Quezon when he reached Legaspi Thursday, to direct relief workers aiding terrified Filipinos who have been driven from their homes by the seven-day eruption.

The mountain was in heavy eruption as the presidential yacht came into Legaspi harbor, but Rev. Miguel Selga, volcanologist, said there was no indication the eruptions were becoming more intense. He assured President Quezon there was no danger to life at present.

Two heavy eruptions Thursday afternoon caused great fear among the refugees of the village of Salvacion, and again drove the natives of Guinobatan to kneel in the streets to pray the earthshaking eruptions would stop.

A heavy shower of white hot rocks, some as big as a house, formed a glowing parade from the crater top to the base of the mountain.

This eruption and the unusually heavy rumblings which followed drove the few remaining stragglers from their homes at the base of the mountain.

Showers of ashes fell on villages and plantations beyond the base of the crater, and fear was expressed crops might be destroyed.

DRIVE AGAINST NAZI EFFORTS

Alsace-Lorraine Scene of Increasing French Propaganda Campaign

PARIS (AP)—Premier Edouard Daladier's government has launched a counter-offensive against what is described as a large-scale Nazi propaganda campaign in Alsace-Lorraine.

Activity of German agents in the provinces, lost by France in 1871 and recovered as a result of the Great War, has impressed the government so seriously that Vice-Premier Camille Chautemps has been assigned to Alsatian affairs exclusively.

Early this spring Joseph Boncour, then foreign minister, told the Chamber of Deputies-foreign affairs committee that Nazi agents were increasing their attempts to turn German-speaking citizens of "Alsace-Lorraine" against France.

After the Saar plebiscite, January 15, 1935, Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler solemnly proclaimed that return of the territory to Germany marked the end of Nazi territorial demands on France, but French officials charge that Prussian-born Hermann Bickler, chief of the autonomist party in Alsace-Lorraine, is seeking autonomy only to return the provinces to Germany.

"NATIONAL MINORITY"

Bickler, who became a nationalized Frenchman after the war, publicly declared it "a self-evident cause" that the "people of Alsace-Lorraine constitute a national minority inside France" and declared "the entire world no doubt has learned that we are of German language and character."

Whereupon the German newspaper Elz declared: "Alsace refuses more than ever forced assimilation into France."

While most of the nearly 2,000,000 inhabitants of Alsace-Lorraine speak German, French officials dispute Bickler's claim the population is of "German character." Deputy Salomon Grumbach, vice president of the Chamber of Deputies foreign affairs committee, told a Strasbourg meeting "Alsations are Frenchmen speaking a German dialect."

France has little fear that Germany can make another Austria out of Alsace-Lorraine, but the Maginot Line is built in the frontier provinces and the government fears that even partial Nazi success among German speaking citizens might seriously threaten mobilization and the nation's defenses in event of war.

BARE KIDNAP PLOT DETAILS

Trial of John Bruce Thornton in Nuffield Case Heard at Oxford, England

OXFORD, Eng. (AP)—Testimony that a would-be kidnapper intended to extort a huge sum from Viscunt Nuffield, millionaire automobile manufacturer, by threatening him with an "operation" without an anesthetic was introduced today at the hearing of John Bruce Thornton.

Thornton, 50, is charged with inciting Major Arthur G. F. Ramsden to help him abduct Lord Nuffield.

Major Ramsden, testifying against Thornton, said the latter had told him he would "make a display of surgical tools" before the millionaire after the kidnapping had been carried out and thus induce him to write a letter arranging for a letter of credit for £100,000 (about $500,000).

If Lord Nuffield "did not play the game," Major Ramsden said, Thornton wanted to take the peer out to sea on a yacht and "dump him."

The plot collapsed, the prosecutor said, because Major Ramsden told the police. Thornton was arrested May 24 when he drove up to Lord Nuffield's Cowley plant in an automobile. He was accused of carrying two pistols.

CHEAP HOUSING PLAN OUTLINED

Loan Bill Introduced By Dunning Given First Reading
By Commons

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadians have before them today a government plan to carry the benefits of low-cost housing loans to every family in the Dominion, from the large cities to the cross-road hamlets and fishing villages.

In the House of Commons yesterday Hon. Charles Dunning, Minister of Finance, introduced a three-way measure designed to assist financing low-salaried owner-builders and municipal low-rental housing projects and to lift the early burden of municipal taxation from the low-cost owner-builders. About $55,000,000 is to be the federal treasury's obligation under the scheme.

It was the hope of the government, Mr. Dunning said, to provide better housing conditions, stimulate employment, revive business prosperity, and remove from the minds of the small-salaried man his fear of shouldering the responsibility involved in attaining the life-long ambition of owning his own home.

His housing legislation was "a challenge to the building industry of this country—and is so intended," Mr. Dunning declared. One way to kill it would be for those in the industry to attempt, because of it, to raise prices of commodities or labor.

THREE PARTS

The bill, which was given first reading after a brief debate on the preliminary resolution, is divided into three parts.

The first provides for repeal of the Dominion Housing Act of 1935 and substitution of a similar system eliminating defects which prevented its wider acceptance in rural districts and among low-salaried groups. For this purpose $20,000,000 is provided, less the $5,500,000 already committed under the old act. The interest rate to borrowers remains at a maximum of 5 per cent.

The second part enables the government to lend up to $30,000,000 to assist in the construction of low-rental housing projects either by municipal bodies or limited dividend housing corporations. Interest and amortization costs would be 3½ per cent a year.

As an illustration of what might be done under this section of the bill, Mr. Dunning said funds could be used so it might be possible to rent a modern, heated family apartment for $18 a month in one of the larger Canadian cities.

The third part, Mr. Dunning said, was designed to strike a direct blow at what he believed to be the greatest deterrent to building operations—municipal taxation.

On owner-built houses of up to $4,000 cost the government will pay the municipal taxation the first year, 50 per cent the second year and 25 per cent the third year. This was estimated to cost the treasury a maximum of $5,000,000 in three years. The provision does not include local improvement taxes.

BILL IS ENDORSED

Conservative Leader Bennett and O. B. Elliott, Social Credit, Kindersley, Sask., both endorsed the principle of the bill.

Mr. Bennett observed the announcement had come first from Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture, when he was speaking recently in the Saskatchewan election campaign. A similar incident in the British government, he said, had resulted in dismissal of a Secretary of State for India.

One of the great defects in the Dominion Housing Act of 1935, Mr. Dunning said, had been the difficulty of those in small communities inducing lending institutions to deal with their applications because of the administration costs involved and the risk.

It had also been difficult for those in low-income groups to finance building. Now it was proposed to give greater assistance to the low-income groups and bonus the lending institutions to offset extra charges in handling accounts distant from the lending offices.

LARGER LOANS

The old act, which financed $17,000,000 worth of loans up to the end of May last, provided the builder put up 20 per cent, the lending institution 60 per cent and the Dominion 20 per cent.

Now it would be provided that loans might be made up to 90 per cent of the lending value of the property on the lowest cost homes and that the government would share with the lending institution, in varying degree, the risk of loss on the venture, in certain areas.

To induce lenders to assist prospective home owners in small and isolated localities the government proposes to guarantee lending institutions on owner-built homes costing up to $4,000 against a maximum of 20 per cent of possible loss on the total amount of an 80 per cent loan and up to 25 per cent on a 90 per cent loan.

Areas in which this would be effective would be designated by the minister, and the guarantees would be on a graduated scale down from the maximums mentioned, depending on the security and resale value of property in those areas, and the percentage of the value on which the loan is based.

PROVINCIAL GUARANTEES

If the local housing authority is a municipal body the province would be required to guarantee repayment of the loan. If a limited dividend corporation, no such guarantee will be required.

No family housing unit will be leased to a family whose income is equal to more than five times the economic rental of the unit. Economic rental is defined as a return of 9½ per cent on the cost.

Annual rental to be charged a family of low income is not to exceed 20 per cent of the total income. Provision also is to be made that funds may be set up voluntarily in a municipality further to reduce the rent in needy cases.

The loans are to be allocated according to the population and are not to exceed in any municipality that proportion of $30,000,000 the population of the municipality bears to the total urban population of Canada.

Limited dividend corporations operating under the act will be required to give the municipality an option to take over the project at the amount of capital invested in it by the corporation.

Two Children Are Burned to Death

RAINIER, Wash. (AP)—Two children, one three and the other a year and a half, burned to death last night when fire swept the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gleason Hall.

Deputy Sheriff John Hudson, who investigated the fire, said the parents told him they were some distance from the house when they noticed the blaze and on reaching it were not able to enter to save their children.

Cause of the fire could not be immediately learned.

NANAIMO DEATH

NANAIMO — Herbert Wilson Sterriker, 21, logging contractor, and a resident of Qualicum, died yesterday in the General Hospital here following a brief illness. He was born in Burnaby and is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Sterriker, Qualicum Beach; a brother, David; two sisters, Mrs. J. R. McNeill, Qualicum and Mrs. L. P. Good, Dashwood. He was a grandson of John C. Wilson, prominent lumberman of Qualicum. Funeral services will be held on Friday at Qualicum United Church, Rev. Mr. Petrie officiating. Interment will be in Qualicum cemetery.

FISHING FEE IS UP TO B.C.

NANAIMO—The question of the cancellation of the reciprocal agreement between the province and Dominion regarding fishing license of aliens, necessitating the purchasing of both tidal and non-tidal fishing licenses is entirely up to the province, according to a statement made by the Dominion supervisor of fisheries for this district, J. F. Tait. He stated that the Game Board of British Columbia had first asked for the cancellation, and that if they were satisfied to allow tourists to fish for both sea and inland fish, with one license, Dominion authorities were willing. Inspector F. Butler, of the Game Board, admitted that the board had made the request and that the question was now being dealt with by the Attorney-General.

The question arose here to night after the quarterly meeting of the affiliated fish and game protective association of the island, representing some 2,000 sportsmen, had endorsed the stand of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau that one license only be required.

Plans Approved For Building of 23,000 Pre-fabricated Homes

LONDON (CP)—Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian High Commissioner in the United Kingdom, today announced plans had been approved by various Scottish authorities for the erection of 23,000 pre-fabricated houses built of British Columbia timber, for which contracts are expected soon.

The decision is the outgrowth of construction under the supervision of Douglas Roe, British Columbia timber commissioner in the United Kingdom, of two pre-fabricated houses at Hull, which were finished 9½ days after the laying of the foundations.

Through the High Commissioner's offices the advantages of timber houses as an aid in slum clearance were explained to Health Ministry and Scottish Office officials and through them were brought to the attention of the Scottish Health Department and the Scottish Special Areas Housing Association.

More than 60 delegates represented 10 Scottish housing authorities inspected the Hull houses. It is said use of western red cedar in the manufacture of solid walls and pre-fabricated sections will provide an outlet for lower grades long sought by British Columbia mills.

Coal Sales Drop In United States

CHICAGO (AP)—J. D. Battle, executive secretary of the National Coal Association, of Washington, D.C., said yesterday the United States coal industry lost $2,000,000 more tons in sales last year to competitors than it did in 1936.

This volume of business lost to natural gas and hydro-electric power industries, he said in a speech at the convention of the American Retail Coal Association, represented $76,000,000, of which coal mine labor would have received $45,000,000.

WAR BY DOPE, JAPAN POLICY

Drugs Foisted on Chinese to Break Down Spirit

NEW YORK—War by dope, a campaign in which opium pellets long preceded lead bullets, was charged against Japan by Mme. Chiang Kai-shek, the American-educated wife of China's generalissimo.

A path of demoralization, paved with peppy-dreams and canopied with pipe smoke, was laid through China years before Japan's hosts began their march, Mme. Chiang said in a letter to Dr. Arthur La Roe of the American Narcotic Defence Association.

"The Japanese began their efforts to demoralize the Chinese people by using opium and other narcotics," the beautiful wife of the Chinese dictator wrote.

"Their design was to break down any spirit of resistance among the people, and make tools of those they wished to use."

"The young army officers of Japan regarded this method as too slow for their purpose and created an 'incident' which they thought would enable them to use a swifter means of subjugating China."

And if Japan's reverses in the field continue, said Mme. Chiang, her campaign in the hop-joints will be redoubled.

"WAR BY THREAT"

Dr. La Roe said the Japanese have introduced as much as 50 per cent of the population in conquered areas to the narcotics habit. Coolies, he said, are hired by the Japanese for about 20 cents a day, and they are supplied with opium for 15 cents a day.

Saskatchewan Speaks

SASKATCHEWAN HAS ONCE MORE affirmed its belief in the fundamentals of Liberalism. Premier Patterson's striking victory at the polls yesterday is a new indication that the people of that sorely-tried part of the Dominion are just as true to their political principles, as they were when they elected their first government after the establishment of the province in 1905. Only once since then has Saskatchewan had a Conservative Prime Minister, that was the administration of 1929-1934, when Dr. J. T. M. Anderson enticed five Independents and four Progressives to support him and thus give the coalition forces a bare margin over the straight Liberal following under Hon. J. G. Gardiner. In the general election of 1934, of course, the Conservatives disappeared completely, the 55 seats which then comprised the Legislature being filled by 50 Liberals and five Farmer-Labor members. Although 23 Conservative stalwarts did battle yesterday, not one of them is likely to be numbered among the small opposition group in the next Legislature.

It is fairly safe to say now that the province of Saskatchewan may as well be given up as a successful hunting ground for votes in opposition to Liberalism. As far as Conservatism is concerned it can be wiped off as a thoroughly bad debt. And is there any purpose in suggesting that the disciples of Aberhartism have any better chance of getting a foothold in that province in the future than they had in this latest appeal to the people? All Social Credit's horse, artillery, and foot had been conscripted by the High Priest of this new Economic Order to blast the party's way into the prairie stronghold of Liberalism. Thirty-nine standard-bearers had entered the lists—and there had even been dubious head-shaking in the seats of the political mighty at Ottawa—but not more than two, perhaps even only one, will be able to preach the $25-a-month dividend gospel from a corner of the next Saskatchewan Legislature. Risking the employment of a vulgarism, we suggest that the Aberhartian financial creed can be written off as a "flop," as far as the courageous and politically-loyal people of Saskatchewan are concerned.

The same cannot be said of the fortunes in yesterday's polling of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation. The party ran 31 candidates and elected more than a quarter of them. They, therefore, will have the privilege of discharging the duties of His Majesty's Loyal Opposition. It is interesting to note, incidentally, that the C.C.F. representation in the Saskatchewan House will be at least three in excess of its membership in the House of Commons and two more than in the British Columbia Legislature.

With its membership of at least 35 (there are two deferred elections) in a Legislature composed of 52 members under the Distribution Act of last session, the Patterson government will be enabled to continue its progressive program and do all that is humanly possible with legislative machinery to assist in improving the lot of the people of the province. Saskatchewan has been called upon to face more exacting conditions and problems—the greatest of which has been the work of Nature herself—than have ever befallen the people of the rest of Canada. But her rural and urban population have kept a stiff upper lip and in better crop prospects this year they are hoping the sign of improving times has appeared at last. In any event, yesterday's decision at the polls is a clear intimation that they prefer patience and courage as a combination for solving their difficulties to the quick remedies of political dreamers.

The Minorities Question

NEXT SUNDAY WILL SEE THE LAST of the series of the current communal elections in Czechoslovakia, and until all the excitement over them has died down, it is calm is possible in that part of Europe, the world will not know just how far Reichsfuehrer Hitler will follow his veiled threats to apply in actual practice his "new technique" in the "interests" of the 3,231,688 Sudeten Germans who live in the war-born neighboring republic.

Much has been written about the minorities of Czechoslovakia, how the present Hodze government is meeting their requirements, how Father Andreas Hlinka—a very old man—now is demanding autonomy for nearly 2,000,000 Slovaks, and what chances there are within the realm of practical politics of subjecting the country to a species of ethnological partition within the framework of the Republic.

But an important point to be remembered in any discussion of this subject is that the Czechoslovak Germans, after the Ukrainians in Poland, constitute the largest of the national minorities in European countries. Putting the number at the figure stated above—this according to the last census—we find there a population larger than some of the independent European states. Perhaps the reason they have never formed a state for themselves, however, is not only because they do not constitute a geographical whole, but occupy only the mountainous borders, including one bit of the classical geographical unit, Bohemia. It is to be noted, too, that these districts of the German-speaking population are mixed with others populated by Czechs, Slovaks, and citizens of other nationalities, which make up eight distinct districts. The most important of these, according to latest computations, has 2,067,703 inhabitants, and the smallest 10,011.

For purposes abroad, however, the German propaganda factory in Berlin has circulated a map of Czechoslovakia which shows a solid block of Germans living on the frontiers. But no matter which way the case of the Sudeten Germans is argued, they cannot enjoy a territorial autonomy or constitute a real independent state unless the whole structure of the Republic is cracked wide open. In the present mood of the government at Praha, there is no possibility of this as long as a fighting man can be found to defend its integrity. The best they could do, theoretically speaking, of course, is to become attached to the neighboring Republic which now is Greater Germany.

On this theory, however, the thing is geographically impossible, because if the frontiers were drawn in such a way that all these adjoining territories and the German "pockets" with neighboring districts were attached to the Reich, it would mean annexing a certain number of districts with a Czech majority. Thus, under this hypothesis, if Hitler's Reich were to absorb all the Germans in Czechoslovakia, all Czechoslovakia would have to be annexed with them. How this idea, with all its implications, fits in with the Reichsfuehrer's plans may or may not be clearer after the conclusion of the local elections next Sunday.

Real Business

IN THE FIRST FIVE MONTHS OF 1938 the number of outside automobiles handled by the customs authorities at the four points of entry into this province on the British Columbia mainland was 203,704, and of this total 73,326 came from the United States, while the respective figures for the corresponding period of last year were 186,113 and 62,767, or an increase in the all-car total of 17,591 and of 10,559 in the number of American cars.

Automobiles handled by the customs at Victoria and Sidney in the first five months of 1937 amounted to 3,167, of which 2,016 originated in the United States, and for the corresponding period of this year the figures were 3,891 and 2,584, respectively, a gain in the all-car total of no less than 724 and in the American tally of 568.

The foregoing statistics, just compiled by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau's able commissioner, Mr. George I. Warren, bear witness to the value of progressive and convincing advertising and the effective contact work which has accompanied it in recent years. The local bureau has spent to the best possible advantage the modest sum of money made available to it annually. Mr. Warren's long and valuable experience in the business he directs has been a potent factor in the return of such substantial tourist dividends.

To Cut Motor Accidents

AMENDMENT TO THE CRIMINAL CODE provides a maximum penalty of $500 and costs and six months in jail for hit-and-run drivers, and for reckless driving even without an accident the penalty may be as high as $100 fine and three months in jail on summary conviction, or if indictment proceedings are launched it may be $1,000 fine and two years' imprisonment.

Drastic these penalties may be, but if there is no other way of reducing the accident toll resulting from wanton foolishness on Canadian highways, public opinion will support their enforcement.

Notes

We suspect that the clever cartoons of Arch Dale in the Winnipeg Free Press were no mean factor in turning back the threatened Social Credit invasion of Saskatchewan. His drawings bring home with a telling humor the absurdity of the Aberhart claims more effectively than could be done by columns of type. The cartoons have now been gathered by the Free Press into a booklet called "Twenty-five Dollars a Month" or "Adventures in Aberhartia." They are to be prized by collectors of Canadian politicians.

MORE ARRESTS IN ITALY

From Manchester Guardian

There has recently been a renewed campaign of political terrorism in Italy, coinciding with the Italian government's move towards better relations with the western democracies. In Milan especially the police have been active. On April 10 Milanese were arrested and taken to prison without any explanation or even an explicit charge. No one knows how long they will be detained or when they will be brought to trial. At the same time the police arrested several workers in Milan to give the impression that there was a connection between the workers and the intellectuals, which did not in fact exist.

The most eminent of the arrested men is a well-known lawyer and author, Signor Antonio Greppi. Signor Greppi, who fought in the war (his war recollections published last year had a great success in Italy), was formerly a member of the Socialist Party, but retired from politics in 1926 when the parties were suppressed by the Fascist government. Since then he has devoted himself to writing, and several of his plays ("Il Piccolo Piante," "L'Avvocato," "La Donna di Tutti") have been successfully performed in Italian theatres. His friends in Milan refuse to believe that he is guilty of any political crime and are convinced that he will be able to clear himself if he is given the opportunity to do so.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

FIRST NARROWS

IF YOU WANT TO GET a sudden and vivid view of the strange disease which affects our civilization, stand on Prospect Point in Vancouver in the darkness. Stand there with a gale whipping in from the gulf and the primeval fir trees of Stanley Park groaning, and the lights of little boats bobbing up and down in the harbor, and the lights of the North Shore sweeping across the dark blot of the mountains. Stand there and look up at the huge towers of the new First Narrows Bridge, black and lean and clean against the torn sky, the thread-like cables swaying a little in the wind.

This bridge, which grows daily, which is taking on a new shape now, will soon carry men and automobiles in thousands across the Narrows which, for a billion years has been unbridged and untouched—this bridge shows you what men can do when they work together, how they can conquer geography and gravity and even a greater difficulty, the problem of modern finance. Look well at the bridge, stark and strong and clean against the sky, the work of men's hands, of engineers' brains, of great machines, of modern finance.

Then go down to the Vancouver Post Office and see the sit-down strikers lolling about, digging themselves in, they say, for the summer, as a protest against an economic system which gives them no jobs.

We can build a mighty bridge in Vancouver, an infinitely complicated thing of fabricated steel, of twisted wire-cables, of poured concrete. We can solve all the problems of engineering and gravity down to the thousandth of an inch, down to the last thousandth of an ounce. We can bring men and tools and capital together here at the First Narrows. But at the Post Office, a mile or so away, we can't bring a thousand young Canadians and work together, when there is unlimited work to be done and men willing to do it. Go from the First Narrows to the Post Office and you have covered in a mile the whole gamut of our civilization, seen its baffling disease at first hand. And, of course, you are no wiser, only more puzzled.

It must mean something, men's ingenuity and capacity to work together here at the First Narrows, and in the Post Office the utter futility of our social arrangements, the breakdown of law enforcement, the surrender of government. It must mean something, but what?

LIQUIDATED

SEVERAL VANCOUVER people talked to me about this. Some said the government ought to put the Post Office boys to work. Others said they didn't want to work and were led by Communist agitators who had made a racket out of organizing the strike, who only wanted to fatten on the boys' monthly union dues. A householder told me he had tried for weeks to get a young man to work in his garden and finally had to employ a Japanese.

I drove around the park that stormy night with an old friend of mine, an eminent journalist named Bill, and he admitted that the whole thing baffled him, and as an old radical, a revolutionist in his youth, he made a terrible confession, there in the silence and protective darkness of the park. He said he had abandoned the Russian revolution.

"Yes," he said, like a man who admits the failure of his life, and confesses a horrid crime, "yes, so far as I am concerned, I have liquidated the Russian revolution. It's gone. It's a wash-out. I'm through with it."

He seemed to think that settled Mr. Stalin for good and he drove on grimly, leaving the ruins of the revolution behind him.

TWILIGHT

AND BILL, who is a wise man and a seasoned student of Canadian affairs, said that what we were witnessing, the present futility and incapacity of public affairs, such symptoms as the sit-down strike, were part of the twilight of the democratic system. It's not the fault of the politicians, he said, it's the fault of the people, of us, ourselves.

Democracy is fading and declining because, the peoples, aren't wise enough and virtuous and decent enough to make it work. And under the curious laws of nature, said Bill, there is always a penalty to pay for laziness, for corruption, for softness. There is always a period of discipline and suffering to make the race tough again, so that it can start over.

If we don't show more wisdom and virtue soon, Bill said, we will go through one of the toughening periods, as all soft ages have in the past, as the Romans did. This period will be pretty unpleasant, Bill said. We'll have to fight for our freedom all over again, when we're worthy of it once more.

"Why," cried Bill, flinging his hands off the steering wheel of his car until we almost plunged into the ocean near Siwash Rock, "why didn't Mackenzie King see his chance in the Quebec Padlock Law? Why didn't he grab it, as a test, as an opportunity from heaven, to demonstrate the power of democracy? Why didn't he say, 'I'm getting near the end of my life now, I have nothing to lose, I am going to do something big before I die? I am going to give the Canadian people an inspiration and a lead? I'm going to show them that this nation amounts to something, that democracy is going to survive here, that we are a people and that we have a national government capable of its first duty, the protection of people's liberties' (Bill can talk like that quite well in the park, after a couple of beers.) Why didn't he go to the people and say, here is the issue, here is the parting of the ways, here is the challenge? Are we going to stand together on this first principle, or are we going to surrender to every rotten little cheap dictatorship just to get re-elected? Why didn't Bennett join in with him and end all this sectionalism, all this rotten provincialism, and make this into a nation? I don't know," Bill said, "but I think the people would have backed them and we might have started to get somewhere."

He put his hands back on the steering wheel and we avoided Siwash Rock by two inches.

A SURPLUS OF "D's"

To the Editor:—Our naval authorities should take steps to have the "d" eliminated from admiral. That letter has no place in the word, having doubtless slipped in through association of admiral with the word admirable with which it has no connection whatever. Admiral should be spelled "amiral." This form was imported into England from France, but it goes back to the Arabic amir-al-bahr, meaning the commander or ruler of the sea.

Some of our fiscal authorities should likewise take steps to have the "d" eliminated from budget. It has absolutely no place in that word. The original French form budgette, meaning a little bag, should be substituted for budget, even if it would take something considerably larger than a little bag to hold the money needed to balance our national budget today.

OPPOSES CONSCRIPTING OF IDLE MEN

To the Editor:—It would be a crime and a very unjust measure for the government to conscript the unemployed for military service, as suggested by your correspondent in issue of April 2. Surely the writer making such a suggestion could not have taken part in the Great War—"the war to end wars." Didn't we go and fight for the protection of our loved ones and our country? Having won the war, surely our children are entitled to an opportunity to work, and build up a home for themselves. Why don't our government officials do some planning and arranging?

Wouldn't a work and wage arrangement be a good thing? Roads need improving all over Canada. Wouldn't a real good highway from Vancouver to Halifax be an asset to our country? Surely it would! Then let's get started at it. If a reasonable wage was offered, a large percentage of the unemployed would be glad to get to work. We have all the necessary machinery and material for road building right here in our country. The only thing needed would be the money. That would come from the same place as the money it would take to feed and clothe the army conscripts.

Before conscripting unemployed boys, I would suggest conscripting the wealth throughout our country and doing something with it.

TO MAKE PLEA FOR DISMISSAL

Manslaughter Charge Against R. L. Eccles Will Be Argued in Lower Court

Hearing of a charge of manslaughter against Robert Lionel Eccles was opened in the Provincial Police Court yesterday afternoon when all witnesses for the prosecution and defence were heard.

The case was remanded until next week, when P. J. Sinnott, defence counsel, intimated he would argue for dismissal of the charge.

The charge arose from the death of Royston D. Perkins who received fatal injuries when driving with Eccles and their car turned over on Palmer Station Road, near the Island Highway, on the night of May 27.

Principal evidence for the prosecution was given by Constables W. C. Murray and F. B. Pomeroy of the Provincial Police and Constable W. J. Christensen, mechanical supervisor of the Provincial Police, who tested the Eccles car after the accident.

Constable Murray testified he arrived at the scene about one hour after the crash and found the Eccles car on Palmer Station Road overturned 171 feet from the highway. He found tire marks on Station Road, and produced a plan of the scene. He said a fence on the north side of the road was torn down for a distance of 59 feet and four fence posts had been torn down. At 10:30, Constable Murray testified, the accused had returned to the scene and had said that as he was negotiating the turn on the Island Highway the steering apparatus of the car seemed to go wrong, and he was unable to make the turn.

Constable Pomeroy corroborated Constable Murray's testimony, adding he had found two pieces of wood projecting through the windshield into the rear of the car.

Constable Christensen said he examined the car on May 30 and had found no steering defect which would have impaired the efficiency of the car. The brakes were good, he said. He gave evidence of having taken the car to the scene and negotiated the turn at 30 and 40 miles an hour without difficulty.

In giving his version of the accident, Eccles said at the time he was not travelling more than 10 miles an hour at any time on the Island Highway, and he was travelling slower than that when he reached Palmer Station Road. While rounding the turn he said the steering gear seized and the car ran off the road out of control. He said he had been unable to apply the brakes because the drop from the Island Highway to Palmer Station Road had thrown him out of the driving position in the car.

Under cross examination by H. Alan MacLean, prosecuting counsel, Eccles denied he had been travelling too fast to negotiate the turn.

Other prosecution witnesses were: Dr. Gordon McHardie, who gave the cause of death as being the piercing of the brain by a piece of wood, which entered through the face; B. G. P. Colclough, who took Perkins to the Jubilee Hospital after the crash, and Mrs. Hilda Marie Clarke, who lived near the scene and fixed the time of the accident at about 8:20.

Two Fined For Common Danger
Robert A. Childers, who narrowly missed serious injury when his car plunged 60 feet over the bank on the Malahat on May 22, was fined $15 and $250 costs on a charge of driving to the common danger before Magistrate Henry Hall in the Provincial Police Court yesterday. The charge was based on facts surrounding the accident, which the court held indicated negligent driving on the highway.

Claude Stewart Young was also fined $15 and $250 costs on a common danger charge. Testimony was he was paced on the Island Highway by the B.C. Police motor patrol on May 24 at between 40 and 50 miles an hour.

BEACH PARTY ENJOYED

Pork and beans and pies proved appetizing at the first beach party of the season held by St. John's A.Y.P.A. at the home of Capt. and Mrs. J. P. Trousdale, Gordon Head. Miss Florence Malcolm, Miss Rosa Stone and Messrs. Ian Jack and Stan Lave formed the committee in charge. Music, games, sing-songs and roasting marshmallows added to the fun, enjoyed by some 30 members and "friends." Special thanks were tendered Capt. and Mrs. Trousdale and best wishes to Miss Elizabeth Island, who is leaving for the prairies this week. Members are reminded of the country fair at the Memorial Hall on June 15; also of the sports day and picnic on July 1.

Class Stages Fashion Show

Business Women See Youth Training Results

The practical alliance of utility and artistry in the making and wearing of everyday clothes was effectively demonstrated before the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club yesterday evening, when the members attended a fashion show staged in the studio of Mr. Victor Mott, dress designer, in the Union Building.

All of the dresses shown were made by the students of the Dominion-provincial Youth Training Centre, a number of the students acting as models. Mr. Mott welcomed the guests, and Mr. John Kyle, provincial director of technical education, told the gathering of the valuable work being done under the Dominion-provincial youth training plan, by which unemployed girls and boys are being taught various trades and occupations.

Miss Edith Callister, head of the dressmaking department, was responsible for the attractive collection of clothes shown by the students, evening and afternoon frocks, tailored coats, children's wear, sports wear, etc., being included. Many of the garments had been made from patterns designed and cut by the students themselves, and good style and tailoring characterized the attractive ensembles which were shown.

Members of the club expressed their thanks to Miss Callister and Mr. Mott for giving them the opportunity of seeing the students' work. At the close dainty refreshments were served.

PHILLIPS-FAIRHURST

At a marriage service performed in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends by Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns this morning at St. Mary's Church at 11:30, Miss Doris Fairhurst, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Fairhurst of Victoria Avenue, became the bride of Mr. William Edward Phillips of Port Alberni, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Phillips of Winnipeg.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a smart afternoon dress of white crepe roneine, with hat to match, and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia rosebuds and sweet peas. She was attended by her sister, Miss Hilda Fairhurst, wearing a rose beige frock with hat to match, and carried an arm bouquet of delphiniums and sweet peas.

The bride's brother, Mr. Frank Fairhurst, was best man. A small reception was afterwards held at the home of the bride's parents, where the guests were welcomed by Mrs. Fairhurst, wearing a navy blue and white dress with hat to match, and by the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. W. A. Phillips of Winnipeg. They each wore corsage bouquets of carnations.

An ecru cloth covered the bride's table, which was centred with a two-tier wedding cake flanked with silver candelabra holding in place tall lighted yellow tapers.

Civil Marriages Urged In Quebec

Chief Justice Greenshields Makes Suggestion in Giving Judgment

MONTREAL (CP)—Civil marriages might remedy the mixed marriage problem in Quebec, Chief Justice R. A. E. Greenshields suggested in a judgment handed down in the Quebec Superior Court here yesterday.

"If the officers of the law chosen to celebrate marriages were selected from a responsible and respectable class to the exclusion of the parson and the priest, it might once and for all settle the question of marriage in this province," said the white-haired dean of Superior Court justices.

Specifically in the case on which judgment was rendered, the chief justice took sharp issue with Mr. Justice Alfred Forest for his views on validity of marriages between Roman Catholics and Protestants, that reversed a judgment of his junior.

The judgment today upset a marriage annulment granted James O'Kane by Mr. Justice Forest. A Roman Catholic, O'Kane obtained from Mr. Justice Forest an annulment of his marriage to Peggy Palmer, a Protestant, on grounds they were of different faiths and the marriage ceremony had been performed by Rev. W. Stevenson Major of St. George's Anglican Church in Montreal.

Subsequently Mrs. O'Kane reopened the case before the chief justice, claiming she had been absent in Scotland when her husband had obtained his annulment and that she had known nothing of the proceedings. O'Kane failed to appear to defend the second

Enjoys Life to the Full at 90

MRS. MINNA GILDEMEISTER

Congratulations were being extended yesterday to this venerable and cheerful resident of 336 Beckley Street, James Bay, on her 90th birthday. Hale and hearty, with bright eyes, a keen sense of humor and an ever-ready laugh, Mrs. Gildemeister is as fond of life as she was when a girl in Germany, where she was born June 8, 1848, at Pomeran, on the Prussian Baltic. "I never make any plans for the future, because at 90 you never know," she says and laughs as she says it. She is as mentally alert as she is physically active and likes to do her daily round of housework in her neat little home, where she lives with a daughter, Mrs. J. H. Norman. Mrs. Gildemeister enjoys one outstanding luxury—coffee and toast in bed, but she is always up by 9. She goes to bed at 8:30 each night and sleeps like the proverbial top. "You know," she said, with a pleasant chuckle, "I don't believe in running up doctor's bills, but a body must have something to keep well, so I get some rum and have a little nip, with lots of hot water, before I go to bed. It keeps me just fine, I didn't have a cold all winter. But I don't hold with all this smoking by women. I've never smoked and I'm not going to start now."

hearing and judgment went against him by default.

Under the civil law of this province, declared the chief justice today, a marriage ceremony performed by a Protestant minister between members of the Roman Catholic and Protestant Churches is valid and binding.

ALBERTA ACTS ARE CRITICIZED

Canadian Life Insurance Officers Hear Address at London, Ont.

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Unsound legislation seriously jeopardizes the interests of life insurance policyholders and has a depressing effect on the country's credit, G. W. Geddes of this city warned delegates to the annual meeting of the Canadian Life Insurance Officers' Association in his presidential address today.

Life insurance companies in their capacity of investors and representing their policyholders—creditors might almost be said to bear the brunt of legislation in Canada designed to relieve the distress of debtors, because by reason of their co-operative nature they represented millions of creditors of modest means comprising more than a third of the nation's entire population, the president declared.

"At the recent session of the Alberta Legislature a number of destructive statutes were passed," said Mr. Geddes. "Ostensibly they are designed as a group to relieve debt. Actually they are calculated to confiscate and redistribute assets.

"In all negotiations the creditor is at the mercy of the individual or the board, and unless he settles one or the other his debt will in the end become barred. Another act closes the courts to creditors unless and until the creditor makes a compromise acceptable to the debtor or to the board," he said.

Mr. Geddes also referred to the act taxing mortgage holders 2 per cent of the principal of the mortgage. If such a tax of 2 per cent were applied in all provinces it would cost the insurance companies almost $7,500,000. The tax, said the president, was "a sinister attack on Confederation."

Insurance companies believed in the relief of debtors, but there was lately a tendency towards legislation to relieve debtors at the expense of creditors without regard to the latter's distress or lack of ability to forego payment."

Chain Letters At Hamilton, Ont.

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP)—Times must be better here. The chain letter racket that flourished here three years ago has revived. Instead of 10 cents, the customary amount asked previously, the letters demand 25 cents as the price of good fortune.

NEW HOSPITAL WING

ROSSLAND, B.C. (CP)—A. Sullivan of Vancouver has been awarded the contract for construction of a new wing on the Mater Misericordiae Hospital here, it was announced today. A special meeting of the hospital board was held Wednesday at which tenders were considered. The contract price was not disclosed.

RELEASED BY FRANCOISTS

GIBRALTAR (CP-Reuters)—Peter Caddy, 24, British newspaperman imprisoned by the Spanish insurgents at nearby La Linea since December 24, 1936, on a currency charge, has been released. He is expected to come here.

COATEPEC, Vera Cruz, Mexico (AP)—Cosme Fernandez, wealthy landowner, and his grandson, aged 10, were kidnapped and slain today by an outlaw band.

The kidnappers took Fernandez's keys, robbed his home of property valued at $500, and tortured the victims.

FOR YOUR VACATION

Sooke Is a District of Summer Resorts

East and West Roads Lead to Vacationland.

With so many different kinds of vacation to be found on Vancouver Island... with so many different styles of resorts, it remains for the quiet little district of Sooke, almost within a stone's throw of Victoria, to encompass all the best features of the whole island and present them to the visiting public in a delightfully happy atmosphere. The scenery is magnificent—the Sooke River and adjoining streams abound with fish—there are hills to climb, trails to ride and hike, wooded paths to stroll—the very best beaches and the warmest swimming on the island. Accommodation of many types is available.

The Sooke Highway is never overlooked by the experienced traveler who plans his trips to see something new each mile. Surrounding a well-cultivated countryside, this highway forms almost a complete circle of unusual interest and scenic attraction. Out through Metchosin, a magnificent view to the accompaniment of fresh sea breezes and glimpses of the mighty Olympic Mountains—then away from the sea past farms and wooded dells to East Sooke. Here is the winding Gillespie Road that takes motorists out to West Sooke, to Whiffin Spit and Sooke River. Conveniently situated about the circle are lovely resorts offering the vacationist every accommodation.

GLENAIRLEY AND SEAGIRT

Possibly the best-known resort in East Sooke is Glenairley, situated just off the beaten track in a lovely acreage of trees and green fields. The vine-covered main lodge is of English country inn design, with big windows, pleasant rooms and comfortable atmosphere. There is a safe private beach and warm sea bathing, a very fine tennis court, badminton court, billiards and archery, and, of particular interest to the younger set, a good floor for dancing. There are boats for hire and good saddle horses. Meals are a particular specialty, with milk, cream, fruit, vegetables and home-made bread supplied from the lodge and gardens.

A little further along the East Sooke Road is Sea-Girt, a pretty white country resort with gabled roofs and many windows—an ideal place for a restful holiday. Sea-Girt has a perfect setting in an almost landlocked bay. There are gentle sloping beaches, picturesque little inlets, lovely green fields and the warmest water to swim in one can possibly imagine. The lodge itself has a distinct air of friendliness about it. The rooms are airy and spotlessly clean, and the dining room very attractive in its simplicity. Meals are under the personal supervision of Mrs. J. R. Horgan, and many home-cooked delicacies are served to tempt the appetite. There is a tennis court and many other amusements, and games are arranged during the summer. Boats are always on hand for the pleasure of guests.

GOOD AUTO CAMP

It is on the West Sooke Road, near Sassano, that the vacationist finds Sunnyshores Auto Camp. Here is a happy choice of name, for this lovely wooded camp, sloping gently down to the sea the sun shines brightly. There is a wide grassy playground near the shore and a beach where children are perfectly safe to play from morning until night. The cabins, of one, two or three rooms, are modern and clean, with city water in all of them. There are boats and a small golf course right at the camp, plenty of parking space and a good service for supplies.

Whiffin Spit, a sandbar a mile long that stretches across the Sooke waters in picturesque serpentine curves and protecting the harbor from the rolling waves of the Pacific Ocean, is always a favorite place for summer visitors. Sooke Harbor House, a new building in shining white, stands close above the sea right at the spit. From the windows of this lovely resort a panoramic view of the snow-capped peaks of the Olympic Range across the Straits of Juan de Fuca is to be seen, an unforgettable sight of overwhelming beauty. Sooke Harbor House is up-to-date in all ways, every bedroom is centrally heated and comfortably furnished. The meals in the dining room are tastefully served, with the added treat of fresh produce daily, from farm and sea. Situated as it is, this resort receives the full benefit of the invigorating ocean air. It is a spot unsurpassed for comfort, rest and recreation.

Cameras can be kept clicking for days recording the many pictorial effects to be found in and around Sooke Harbor.

WOODSIDE FARM

Passing through Sooke Village on the New Jordan River Road, one comes at last to Woodside Farm—a name that to everyone who has ever visited it is synonymous with comfort, rest and good things to eat. Woodside is a model farmhouse, set in the midst of 120 acres of well-tended fields, bright painted barns and tall green trees. Everything within and without the farmhouse is spotlessly clean and neat. The bedrooms are large and airy and there is every modern convenience. Meals at Woodside are justly famous, for Mrs. Glitz serves only home-cooked delicacies—and everything for the tables is grown right at the farm. Chicken dinner at Woodside Farm will be remembered and talked of by all who try it. On the farm acreage there is a tennis court and a bowling green. There are trails to follow and good bathing. A special playground for children is arranged quite near the house. The whole district of Sooke offers the vacationist a variety of summer entertainment in the woods, the fields, on the water or at the beaches. An ideal place to spend a day, a week-end or the longer summer vacation.

The Shielling Is An Ideal Guest House

Within a radius of a few miles of Victoria there are a number of guest houses—quiet, dignified old homes in lovely grounds—where the visitor may find a complete rest. Among these The Shielling, at Cadboro Bay, just four miles from Victoria, is outstanding.

Situated on a grassy slope in an acreage of flower gardens, green fields and tall trees, The Shielling has an air of peace hovering over it. There is a wide veranda overlooking the calm waters of the bay, and the view from all windows is perfect. The rooms are airy and cheerful and the beds very comfortable. Delicious meals are carefully served in the friendly atmosphere of an informal dining room. Home products in the way of cream, eggs, fresh vegetables and fruits are a specialty.

Miss Lees of The Shielling takes pride in the fact that her charming guest house is an ideal rest and holiday home. For those who prefer even greater privacy, there are several small cottages on the grounds.

A record for wetness is claimed for Cherrapongee in India, where the average rainfall is 64 feet in a year.

SIR J. STAMP NAMED BARON

Numerous Persons in Empire Honored on King's Birthday; No Canadians

LONDON (CP)—The King, on the official observance of birthday today, raised Sir Josiah Stamp, distinguished economist, and Vivian H. Smith, banker, to the peerage as barons. Their names, with two barons raised a stage in the peerage to viscounts, head the honors list.

Baron Stonehaven, former chairman of the Conservative Party organization and former Governor-General of Australia, and Baron Weir, who resigned recently as adviser to the Air Ministry, become viscounts.

In a list that, as is customary, includes no Canadians, the honor to Sir Josiah is of chief interest to Canada. He is well remembered for his exhaustive inquiry into grain futures trading in 1931, and is a frequent visitor to the Dominion. A director of the Bank of England, he holds the important position of managing the London, Midland and Scottish Railway, the biggest transportation unit in this country.

Vivian Hugh Smith is a partner in Morgan, Grenfell and Company, the London branch of the banking house of J. P. Morgan of New York, the fiscal agent of the British government in the United States. Mr. Smith is also chairman of the Conservative organization of the City of London.

EDDINGTON HONORED

The coveted Order of Merit, restricted to 24 ordinary members and awarded for exceptionally meritorious work either with the defence forces or in science, art and literature, is granted to Sir Arthur Eddington, professor of astronomy at Cambridge University and director of the observatory there.

The list includes six baronets—hereditary knighthoods—creates a number of knights and makes awards in the various orders to people widely scattered throughout the Empire.

The new baronets are Douglas Hacking, chairman of the Conservative Party organization; Sir William Churchman, tobacco magnate; Sir Archibald Weigall, chairman of the Royal Empire Society; Sir William Prescott, president of the Metropolitan Water Board; Sir E. J. S. Ramsden and Major S. S. Steel. Arnesby Brown, who has a picture hanging in the National Gallery of Ottawa and is a brother of Eric Brown, director of the gallery, is knighted, as is Harry O. Chalkley, commercial councillor of the British embassy in Washington, and two governors in the West Indies, Hon. C. F. Dundas of the Bahamas and Hon. H. P. Popham of the Windward Islands.

Sir Donald Somervell, Attorney-General, becomes a Privy Councillor; Lewis R. MacGregor, Australian trade commissioner in Canada, becomes a commander of the Order of the British Empire, and Baron Harlech, the former William Ormsby-Gore, Colonial Secretary, is made a Knight Grand Cross of the Order of St. Michael and St. George.

C. AUBREY SMITH, C.B.E.

C. Aubrey Smith, now a Hollywood character actor of long standing, earlier an important member of the London stage, and in his youth an international cricketer, receives a C.B.E.

Australian awards include a posthumous knighthood for J. M. Dunningham, who died in office May 26 as Minister of Labor and Industry in the New South Wales Government. The widow will be known as Lady Dunningham.

Incidents arising out of the Japanese-Chinese war are recalled by the list which gives a Companionship of the Bath to Rear-Admiral Reginald Holt of the Yangtze River patrol, and C.M.G. to Edmund, Leo Hall-patch and Lieut.-Colonel William A. Lovat-Fraser who were with Ambassador Sir Hugh Knatchbull-Hugessen when he was shot by Japanese fliers last August 26. The managing director of the firm that built the Singapore naval base, Arthur Jackson, was knighted.

IRONSIDE IS G.C.B.

General Sir William Ironside, the new Governor of Gibraltar, and Air Chief Marshal Sir Cyril Newall are given G.C.B.'s.

Sir Howard Kennard, Ambassador at Warsaw, is made a Knight Grand Cross of St. Michael and St. George, while Charles Parairet, formerly minister at Vienna, gets a K.C.M.G. Frank Salisbury, who painted the official Coronation picture, becomes a Commander of the Royal Victorian Order.

Women honored include the Marchioness of Carisbrooke, Dame Grand Cross of the Order of the British Empire, and the Countess of Elgin, chairman of the women's section of the Empire-Exhibition at Glasgow. Dame Commander of the same order.

While the King's birthday was officially observed today, he actually was born December 14.

CRASH CLAIMS THREE VICTIMS

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—

Three middle-aged women were dead, another seriously hurt and the husband of one of the victims not expected to live today as the result of an automobile accident last night 40 miles west of here.

Mrs. Belle Hashberger, 50, Clearwater, Neb., died almost instantly, and Miss Frances Marwood, 50, also of Clearwater, died on the way to a hospital.

Lindberghs Go To French Island

LONDON (AP)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh have left Long Barn, in Kent, which has been their home for two and a half years.

Friends said presumably they had gone to lonely Illec Island, off the coast of France's Brittany, which the flier bought last April.

A reliable source said the Lindberghs had given up their farmhouse for good and, with their two sons, Jon and Land, left the country "several days ago."

Senate Insists On Sunday Move

OTTAWA (CP)—The Senate insists on its amendment to the Lord's Day Act, and last night the banking and commerce committee of the Upper House recommended a measure be sent to the House of Commons advising that House of the fact.

When the bill first came to the Senate it set forth that any director or other high official of a corporation could be jailed and fined for permitting unnecessary work on Sunday. The Upper House altered this by eliminating the jail penalty and increasing the maximum fines on corporations for first and subsequent offences.

The Commons rejected the amendments on the ground it deleted from the bill the individuals who it was desired to get after, that it eliminated imprisonment as penalty, and also failed to increase the minimum fines.

Last night the Senate committee gave as its reasons that since a corporation would profit by Sunday labor, it was the corporation which should suffer and not an employee of the corporation.

FELLOWSHIP AWARDED

BOSTON (CP)—Joseph G. Hooley of Vancouver, a student in the department of chemistry at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and a graduate of the University of British Columbia, was awarded the James Savage Fellowship for high scholarship. "Sales Up," Says Motor Official

Optimism Marks Report of Willys Sales Manager After Tour of Western Canada

"All that is needed to make good business is men of business daring and broad vision," according to W. B. Robinson, sales manager of Willys of Canada Ltd., Windsor, who is making a tour of western Canada to visit Willys distributors and dealers.

Mr. Robinson is accompanied by W. S. Tempest, western sales representative of the Willys firm, and by W. B. Meredith, distributor for British Columbia. In Victoria today they were in conference with Masters Motor Company Ltd., local representatives of Willys Company.

"For the first time in history," Mr. Robinson said, "motorists have been offered a full-sized, fully equipped new car at a price comparable to that of many used cars."

"In addition to the low initial price of the Willys, low down payment and a monthly-payment plan within the reach of a majority of the used car owners of today, are many other advantages, including economy of operation, savings in repair bills, greater safety and comfort. "A striking phase of Willys sales is the fact that a large percentage of our customers have never owned a new car before. They change to our product because they have learned that they save enough money through Willys low operating costs."

"We have felt the return of the buying spirit among users of motor cars in both eastern and western Canada. Our sales for the last three months have been well ahead of last year, and we are looking forward to real business in the west for the balance of the year."

Decision Hits Juvenile Court

Contributing to Delinquency Matter For Criminal Code, Judge Rules

VANCOUVER (CP)—The powers of juvenile court judges throughout Canada are believed affected by a decision handed down in the British Columbia Supreme Court by Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald.

The judge yesterday dismissed the appeal of the crown against dismissal by Magistrate H. S. Wood, sitting as a juvenile judge, of a charge of contributing to delinquency against a man. Magistrate Wood dismissed the charge on the ground it could have been laid under the Criminal Code of Canada and taken to a senior court. Mr. Justice McDonald upheld the magistrate's decision in dismissing the crown's appeal.

Legal circles said they believed the decision may limit the powers hitherto exercised by juvenile court judges. A large number of cases of adults who could have been charged under the Criminal Code have been tried in juvenile courts, they said.

Counsel for the Attorney General of British Columbia said he would take the case to the Court of Appeal.

Sergt. Richard Harvey Transferred to B.C. Force at Kamloops

Changes in the personnel of the British Columbia Provincial Police which will affect the transfer of two popular officers in Victoria have been announced by Col. J. H. McMullin, commissioner.

Staff Sergeant Richard Harvey, for many years N.C.O. in charge of district headquarters at Victoria, has been transferred to Kamloops as district N.C.O. of D. division. He will succeed Staff Sergeant W. J. Service, who has been promoted to acting inspector in C division, with headquarters at Prince Rupert.

Constable J. A. "Jake" Young, outstanding revolver shot of the Provincial Police, who has been stationed at Victoria during recent months as ballistic expert and instructor, will also go to Kamloops, with the rank of corporal.

Staff Sergeant Harvey has been with the B.C. Police 14 years and during that time has built for himself an exceptional record as police officer. At present he serves under Inspector Robert Owens, officer commanding the Vancouver Island division, and in this capacity he has had charge of the administration of Victoria district operations extending as far as Goldstream.

In recent years he also undertook to act as prosecutor in Provincial Police Court cases and as such he has participated in a number of important cases.

It is expected Sgt. G. A. Johnson, now stationed at Duncan, may come to Victoria to succeed Staff Sergeant Harvey. Sgt. Richard Dunn of Burnaby will probably succeed Sgt. Johnson.

INDIA IS READY FOR HOME RULE

Miss Evelyn Gedge Tells Rotary Club Country Is Awake to Responsibilities

"India is at the beginning of a hopeful era. . . I believe provincial autonomy has come if anything too late. There are dangers they may come croppers over home rule, but I believe it is far, far better that they should go on with it. With the responsibility of government on their shoulders, the people of India are beginning to realize their social responsibilities."

That was the picture of the Indian home rule controversy left with the Victoria Rotary Club at its luncheon today by Miss Evelyn Gedge, world traveler and social worker.

In her capacity as a former woman magistrate of the juvenile court of Bombay she spoke on "The Problems of the Children of India."

The subject of home rule was mentioned at some length in her address. She begged the club not to believe stories that the country was not ready to rule itself. The young people of India today, she said, were nearer Britain than ever before, bound largely by a common hatred of dictatorship.

Of welfare work among children, Miss Gedge said India has absolutely woken up. We have got an educated India. . . We have got young college men and women alive to these problems."

She reviewed the successes of social work in India during the last decade. The Children's Act had been passed, and had brought into being a proper juvenile court system, with segregation of young prisoners from old offenders. A Borstal school had been started. A new marriage act, which, though widely broken, did protect children from the old injustices of child marriage, had been put into effect in 1930. Blind children, of whom there was an appalling number, were being given greater care. The practise of attaching children to temples for immoral purposes had been stopped.

But in spite of the many abuses to end which legislation had been needed, there was a very real family love for children in the cities and villages of India. Ignorance rather than cruelty was at the bottom of the apparent ill-treatment of children.

Miss Gedge was introduced and thanked by T. J. Goodlake, who presided.

Miss Helen Kirkwood, general secretary of the Victoria Y.W.C.A., and Vivian Shoemaker of the Y.M.C.A. were guests at the luncheon.

To Finish Gas Holder Shortly

New B.C. Electric Container to Be Completed During August

Construction of the new gas container by the British Columbia Electric Railway Company gas department will be completed in August, W. Draper, superintendent of the department, stated today.

The $30,000 holder now being assembled in the brick pit at the corner of Government and Pembroke, Streets will provide adequate storage for the city's needs and, with the larger holder already standing, will have a supply sufficiently for a period of 24 hours during the peak consumption this winter.

Shipped in knock-down form from the plant of Robert Dempster and Sons, Yorkshire, England, the structure is being assembled under the direction of the company's foreman, Peter Jordan. Between 12 and 15 local men are employed on the project. The new container will have a capacity of 200,000 cubic feet, with two lifts, gas raised and water sealed. Provision is made for the addition of a third lift when it is needed. The holder is so constructed that it is raised by the gas, one lift linking into the other as it rises. At present the lifts are being assembled in the pit itself. It stands next to the present 500,000 cubic feet container.

"The company's business is growing and we require additional storage to take care of the customers' demands," Mr. Draper stated. There would be no extension in the production plant, he said.

Other first-round scores included: Ben Hogan, White Plains, N.Y., 77; Al Zimmerman, Portland, 76; Tommy Armour, Chicago, 78; Joe Kirkwood, Philadelphia, 81; Sam Parks, Pittsburgh, 85; Lawson Little, San Francisco, 78; Emory Zimmerman, Portland, 72; Olin Dutra, Los Angeles, 74; Jim Foulis, Chicago, 74.

While thunder clouds boomed overhead, obscuring the snow-capped vista of the Rockies, Picard boomed over the rugged incoming nine in 34 strokes, two under par. He bagged three birdies in a stretch of four holes, the 11th to the 14th. With a chance to crack 70 by getting his par on the famous finishing "lake hole," the tall professional over-shot the green and lost a stroke.

"Fools For Scandal" On Dominion Bill

Fun aplenty is promised to-morrow for patrons of the Dominion Theatre in "Fools for Scandal," a comedy-romance with Carole Lombard and Fernand Gravel as its stars. It is presented by Warner Bros. and was both produced and directed by Mervyn LeRoy, ace director of comedies.

Gravel's tremendous success last year in "The King and the Chorus Girl," will be readily recalled. Joan Blondell was his co-star in what. He is the young Franco-Belgian idol that LeRoy discovered in Paris and put under personal contract.

Western Drama At Columbia

"Sudden Bill Dorn," Buck Jones Production, Released By Universal

"Sudden Bill Dorn," a smashing drama of the west that features a great gold rush, has been booked for the Columbia Theatre. This Buck Jones production, a Universal release, will be shown today.

Differing from other Buck Jones productions, "Sudden Bill Dorn" brings a modern touch amidst the glamor of mountains, plains and life away from the bonds of civilization, in that its central theme surrounds a racketeering rancher who swindles his neighbors in a fake oil promotion. This inaugurates a series of fast moving incidents mixed with the crash of guns, wild riding and the unleashing of passions. An intriguing love story runs through it all.

Buck Jones is cast as "Sudden Bill Dorn." The leading feminine roles are handled by Noel Francis and Evelyn Brent. Harold Hodge is cast as "Mike Bundy," the schemer who lures his friends and whom "Sudden Bill" swears he will exterminate.

"Versatile Vets" Open In City

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Alexis Carrell, Noble-Prize winner and co-inventor with Col. Charles A. Lindbergh of the "artificial heart," will end his research at the Rockefeller Institute here July 19, 1939, when he reaches the automatic retirement age of 65, he said today.

The seller was Lady Hanbury, widow of Sir Cecil Hanbury. Before he died—January 11, 1928—Hardy had asked Sir Cecil to keep the cottage so it would be "taken no particular notice of by anybody, certainly: not by sight-seeing tourists."

when the western (Vancouver) route was demonstrating its advantages one elevator here alone handled 55,000,000 bushels of wheat. In the grain year 1936-37 all out Vancouver elevators cleared only 30,000,000 bushels. In the present grain year since August 1, 1937, all our elevators have handled less than 12,000,000 bushels."

Dr. Telford advocated municipal operation of at least one Vancouver elevator.

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. Charles Dunning, Minister of Finance, gave notice in today's House of Commons votes and proceedings of a resolution preliminary to a bill to nationalize the Bank of Canada. The government will acquire complete ownership of the bank and take over the 100,000 shares now in the hands of the public.

COMMENDED FOR RESCUE

C.N.R. Section Crew Rescued Injured Man Suspended Over Swollen River

VANCOUVER—Quick thinking on the part of a Canadian National Railways section crew near Wolfenden, B.C., east of Kamloops, recently effected an unusual rescue following an accident in which George Pond, pole camp employee, found himself suspended by a broken leg above the flood waters of the North Thompson River.

W. T. Moodie, general superintendent of the B.C. district, has dispatched a letter to Foreman F. Trestrain and Sectionman P. Laurent, commending them highly for a humanitarian act performed at no small risk to themselves.

Two miles west of Wolfenden is a contractor's pole camp whose supplies are secured from the railway on opposite bank by means of a ferry operated on a cable stretched across the river. Pond, in returning to camp, pushed the ferry out into the main stream where the swollen river current caught the craft and tightened the ropes lashing it to the cable. Unknowingly, Pond had his foot in the coils when the lines jerked taut. He was snapped into mid air, his leg broken and hanging from it above the river. Although in great pain he managed to grasp the rope and prevent the ferry moving. Camp employees could not reach him, and attracted the attention of the Wolfenden railway men covering the section on their speeder. Climbing out on the cable, Trestrain and Laurent released the man, lowered him to the ferry and got it ashore where they rendered first aid and bound the leg in splints. They then flagged a passing freight train whose conductor took Pond to the nearest doctor at Blue River. Taken to hospital at Kamloops for further treatment Pond is now progressing favorably.

British Naval Men Get Medals

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt yesterday signed a bill authorizing medal awards to four British naval officers for "courageous action" in aiding victims of the Panay bombing. The measure authorizes the chief executive to present distinguished service medals to Rear Admiral Reginald Vesey Holt and Capt. George Eric Maxia O'Donnell and the Navy Cross to Vice Admiral Lewis Gonne Eyre Crabbe and Lieut.-Commander Harry Douglas Barlow.

The Panay sank in the Yangtze River after she had been bombed and machine-gunned by Japanese planes.

Scorpions are known to have starved for 368 days.

AROUND THE DOCKS

HOLIDAY EXCURSION

There were 478 excursionists aboard the Princess Joan when the Canadian Pacific boat left the Belleville Street docks at 9 this morning for Vancouver. The King's Birthday holidaymakers, after enjoying a cruise in the gulf and spending several hours at Vancouver, will leave on the return trip at 5, arriving back in Victoria at 10.

TWO SAILINGS WEEKLY

Saturday next, Princess Norah will enter Canadian Pacific's service to ports on the west coast of Vancouver Island, replacing Princess Maquinna.

Maquinna will be given a quick overhaul at the V.M.D. and will return to the run June 29. After that date the C.P.R. will operate two sailings weekly out of Victoria to the west coast of Vancouver Island. The increased activity at the new mining port of Zeballos is to a large extent responsible for the double-weekly steamer service. Princess Norah will take the Saturday sailing for points as far north as Port Alice, while Princess Maquinna will maintain the Wednesday schedule, turning around at Zeballos. Departure times from Victoria are set for 11 at night.

AORANGI SAILED LATE

Four hours late, Canadian-Australasian motorliner Aorangi, Capt. T. V. (Mickey) Hill, sailed from Pier 2, Rithet docks, at 10 last night for Sydney and Auckland via Honolulu and Suva. Delay was due to the strong southwest wind which whipped up the straits. It was 5 when the Aorangi arrived from Vancouver and Pilot George Roberts took the ship to an anchorage in the Royal Roads where she remained until 8:45.

The Aorangi carried 275 passengers, 70 being bound for Hawaii, and the balance for Australasia.

The ship's cargo holds were well filled with British Columbia products.

JEFFERSON SUNDAY

With Oriental cargo for discharge at this port, and carrying a number of passengers in her cabin accommodation, Ss. President Jefferson, Capt. John Griffith, will reach William Head at 7:30 Sunday night, according to William M. Allan, general agent for the American Mail Line.

Jefferson will come alongside the Rithet docks about 9 and sail early Monday for Seattle.

NAVAL DOINGS

On Dominion Day, the Canadian destroyers Fraser and St. Laurent, stationed at the Esquimalt navy yard, will visit Vancouver for the mainland celebrations.

Bluejackets from the Esquimalt naval barracks will turn out in force tomorrow morning for a route march.

The men from H.M.C.S. Naden will be joined by a landing party from the Fraser and St. Laurent and will march from the Esquimalt barracks via Admirals Road, Craigflower Road, Gorge bridge to the barracks, where Commander J. E. W. Oland, R.C.N., will take the salute. The band will accompany the sailors at the beginning and end of the march.

DOORS FOR U.K.

FLYING SCIENTISTS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Richard Archibald and five companions flying from Wake Island to Hollandia, New Guinea, had 400 miles to go at 9:18 a.m., P.S.T., said a radio report received here by the Pan-American Airways.

BUSY CHIPPING PAINT

Crew of the British freighter Dalhanna spent the King's birthday holiday chipping old paint from the ship's sides and applying new to the upperworks.

The din created by the chippers compensated for the lack of which symphony usually associated with lumber loading operations. Lumber-laden scows lay idle alongside, while longshoremen took a holiday.

One of the Dalhanna's crew gave landlubbers a new idea in painting aloft. Swinging from a bosun's chair from the funnel, stays he disdainfully discarded the use of a brush, dipped his left hand into a dangling can of white paint while he hung on with his right, and rubbed his palm up and down the wire cable, doing an excellent paint job.

Capt. Colin Campbell expects to take the Dalhanna out to sea Saturday morning. She will stop in Jamaica to load bunkers en route to the United Kingdom.

C.N. SKIPPERS

Commanders have been assigned to Canadian National coast steamers for the season as follows: Prince Robert, Capt. H. E. Nodden; Prince Rupert, Capt. Neil McLean; Prince George, Capt. Edward Mabbs; Prince John, Capt. George Coles, and Prince Charles, Capt. James Watt.

In the purser's department, Joseph Barrowclough, formerly of the Prince John, has joined the Prince Charles. Duncan MacKenzie has been assigned to the Prince John as purser.

TO FLOAT TONIGHT

Canadian Pacific coasters, Princess Charlotte and Princess Norah are due to be floated from the Esquimalt drydock tonight, according to Yarrows Limited. Charlotte occupies the upper end of the basin and Norah the outer.

The two ships have been getting general overhaul, including drawing of tail shafts, cleaning and painting.

A German scientist has reported success in coming within four-thousandths of a degree of achieving absolute zero by a method involving magnetism.
